

April 2011 Volume 1 Issue 2

What is searching really all about?

Searching is about finding out the truth about yourself or your birthchild or sibling.

It is not about relationships although certainly most people would like to have a relationship with the person they are looking for. But being realistic is the number one priority when you undertake a search.

If you are prepared for the worst and hope for the best you will be doing all you can to help yourself get ready for whatever the outcome of your search might be.

We have had many bad reunions.

You can read about many in our newsletter "The Vanguard" at our website <http://kinsolving.com/> and our next newsletter will highlight some of the not so good reunions with our clients.

In 30+ years now we have helped thousands of people. Lots of good reunions and ofcourse plenty of bad ones. But most important is that NEVER HAVE WE HAD A CLIENT SAY THEY WERE SORRY THEY SEARCHED!!! THEY GOT THEIR ANSWERS. THEY KNOW WHO THE PERSON IS AND WHERE THE PERSON IS AND AS MUCH AS WE CAN FIND OUT ABOUT THEM.

With Kinsolving Investigations you pay NOTHING upfront.

You do get the "facts" - current information on the person you are searching for and normally much, much more about them and their extended family. You get as much and "all" of what we find out during the investigation.

You do NOT risk any money. You pay nothing if we cannot finish your search. Today it is even more important to be careful about paying all upfront. Searches are hard. It is not just looking up information on the internet. Lots of companies do charge a small deposit upfront and have to be able to stay in business.-

Please check out a company before signing anything with them. Call the Better Business Bureau. Our rating is A+. Check their licenses. That is your guarantee. If they are not licensed who would you turn to for help if there is a problem?

Be careful.....NO company can guarantee that they can do your search. Until you start working on a search you never know what is going to happen and anything can! Adoption searches cannot ever be guaranteed. Any company can try and try and get nothing. All companies use differnt sources.

Just because one company cannot complete your case that does NOT mean that another company cannot. The next company might be able to solve your case. Don't ever give up trying. If you want to search and have not been successful.... Try another company which is trustworthy, has good ratings, talk to prior clients, look on the internet for what people are saying about the companies you are looking at, check the Better Business Bureau, check their licensing bureau for complaints.

They charge nothing unless they complete your search.

Kinsolving Investigations is a NO-Find, NO-Fee agency. You pay nothing unless we complete your search.
